Doug Ashy Building Materials

www.dougashy.com

Doug Ashy Building Materials, founded by Doug and Claire Ashy in 1960, began service to the Lafayette community with four employees and one delivery truck. The modest business of 1960 has grown to include two stores in Lafayette, a distribution center, and stores in Rayne, New Iberia, Ville Platte, and Breaux Bridge – covering the Acadiana area. As well as stores in Covington and Lake Charles.

Doug Ashy, Sr., and his sons Doug Jr., Steve, and Ken, all respectfully retired, have continued to provide the building community with a full line of high quality products at a “one stop” shopping center. Recently, a third generation comprised of D.J., Steven, Michael and Cullan Ashy are running the business to continue the dreams of Doug and Claire.

Doug Ashy Building Materials is proud to have a team of highly qualified professionals including full-time estimators, interior decorators, kitchen design experts, and a window and millwork specialist. Utilizing the latest technology, they can match colors, design decks, and layout kitchens. We also offer a decorating center with experts to assist you with all home needs and selecting flooring for every room of your home. Their delivery system – which uses boom trucks, lift trucks, forklift towing trucks, and millwork trailers – is further evidence of their commitment to their customers and guarantees that materials reach the jobsite timely and in good condition. All of these are an effort to offer the best service to the customer.

The team at Doug Ashy Building Materials believes that “service” is not just a word; it is what customers demand and deserve. Their job is not complete until the customer is completely satisfied.

Doug Ashy Building Materials continues to be heavily involved with trade associations to keep abreast of new items and changes in the industry. In addition to the Acadian Home Builders Association (AHBA), they also belong to the Lumbermen’s Merchandising Corporation (LMC), which is the largest building materials buying group in the country. This allows them to buy quality materials in bulk and pass on the savings to the consumer.

Rodney retired from Law Enforcement in 2005 and joined the firm prior to moving South. After falling in love with the people and the culture in the Acadiana area they decided to bring their building experience to Lafayette.

Shirlene and Rodney pride themselves in their ability to work with clients to make the home building process enjoyable while still providing a quality turnkey home in as little time as possible. They have extensive experience in custom homes from small basic starter homes to the large and elegant estates. They also do some commercial work, metal buildings, as well as additions and remodeling.

If you ask them about the quality of their homes, they will tell you, "We build every home as if we were going to live in it." That says it all.

This Steven Girouard 3437 square foot Modern Farmhouse spreads out along the curve of Sonoma way, creating an expansive front yard with plenty of curb appeal. The antique Cypress French doors, set against the crisp white board and batton siding, along with the old Chicago brick floors of the front porch set the tone for the high level of quality and style that this house embellishes. As you enter the home, another set of antique double doors presents itself, opening up to the 520 square foot climate controlled outdoor kitchen area, with fireplace and a folding La Cantina Door. Take a left into the master suite, with its vaulted ceiling with antique beams, and into the gorgeous master bath with glass shower and free-standing tub.

To the right of the front door, passing the dining area, is the wide-open kitchen area, fit for a chef. The huge island invites guest to sit and hang out, while the chef is busy cooking under the custom hood vent.

There are too many details to list, as interior designer Stacie Chauffe of Décor des Amis has put her design expertise into every nook and cranny of this amazing home.

This 3605 traditional Acadian style home pays homage to the late, great Louisiana Architect- A. Hays Towne. After working in and studying many of Hays Townes houses in Lafayette over the years, Kyle wanted to create a timeless traditional home with all of the amenities of modern life. Also a fan of A. Hays Towne, Architect Russell Trahan understood that passion, and helped bring as many of the details Hays Towne is known for on this size of house. The front porch, featuring antique brick floors and beams, the traditional tongue and groove ceiling and cypress swing will invite many afternoon conversations. The brick floors carry into the house through the Spanish cedar doors, through the foyer to the large living area, with bricked fireplace. Antique beam through the living, opening into the kitchen, with professional quality Viking appliances and large quartzite island, makes this area great for entertaining, or just relaxing. The outdoor kitchen has all of the amenities, with a bricked wood burning fireplace, stainless grill and burner, and sink, will make it hard to choose which kitchen to use.

The house has 5 bedrooms, 4 bathrooms, and a small office. The master bedroom and bathroom are as detailed as the rest of the house, with antique ridge beams, antique doors, and lime washed brick wall around the claw foot tub. 2 of the bedrooms are upstairs along with a generous play area, and all of the usual Braniff Construction details, hideaways, and added gems. Paige Lavergne of LaV Designs understood the desire to make the house seem new, but timeless, a forever home. Her eye for detail and design was a necessity to achieve Kyle's vision of this house.... surely to be one of the highlights of this year's Parade of Homes.

This jaw-dropping parade home is designed by Crissy Greene of Elle Design & Decor / Home Elements Studio and built by Brett Breaux of BECC Homes. Architecturally designed by Natalie Fraychineaud of NMF Architecture, this house combines traditional materials, such as brick and raw wood with sleek steel features and gold accents. This all-painted exterior presents a refreshing take on a traditional style home with an expansive front porch sitting under two levels of dormer windows. Upon entering this home, unique architectural details sing. The cathedral-ceiling in the living room is complemented by a custom old wood truss system in the adjacent glassed-in porch. A steel bi-parting door system, separating the two spaces, completely disappears into the walls, making an already grand space even more impressive. Perfect for entertaining, this home's elegant flare maintains a casual, inviting atmosphere. The custom drapes and furnishings within this home make this space unlike anything you have seen before, as every area has been thought out in detail. This home combines art from local artists with antique European fragments to create a traditional yet updated aesthetic. This home features an upstairs bunk-room complete with a kitchenette, bathroom and the ultimate gaming space consisting of a sunken-lounging area. This home's immaculate one-of-a kind multi-layered pool and spa are the perfect compliment to the interior. The landscaping design perfectly accents the front and backyard outdoor areas, as details such as custom fire features and a unique treehouse make this backyard a true wonder. Make sure to not miss any part of Crissy Greene's personal, cutting-edge masterpiece that is sure to influence the design world for years to come.

Welcome to Green Farms! A subdivision focused around the farmhouse style of living. This subdivision features a lighted walking path, pond, playground and gazebo all tucked away behind the gates of the community. This home is true to its farmhouse style with a mix of shingled and tin roofs, painted brick and hardie board with large beams accenting the front porch. Walk through your double front doors and take in this beautiful staircase with unique detail. Notice the cute half bath which is a perfect use of space- under the stairs. This house is a 4 bedroom with 2 bedrooms, 1 bath upstairs (plus a landing space) and 2 bedrooms, 2.5 baths (including master) downstairs. No carpet throughout the entire home! The master suite is large and open with lots of natural light. Speaking of doing chores, your kitchen is a place you won’t mind spending a lot of time. Kitchen features a painted brick arch, cathedral ceiling, custom cabinets and a farmhouse sink in a unique island. Off the kitchen is your patio which is another living area all its own... it features an outdoor kitchen with gas grill, sink, mini fridge and outdoor fireplace. Charlie Genin

Licensed contractor, Charlie Genin of The Gen Group Construction has always called Acadiana home. He attended the University of Louisiana at Lafayette, earning a B.S. in Marketing. After working in the oilfield as a financial analyst, Charlie found his way back to ULL's graduate school to obtain his M.B.A., and it was during this time that Charlie began building homes with business partner, Robert Daigle. The community feedback and market's response for their uniquely transitional style was overwhelmingly positive and encouraged them to not only continue production of their speculative product, but also to branch out into custom home and commercial construction as well. Today, The Gen Group's brand continues to grow in the Acadiana area and beyond, through the combination of speculative homes, custom homes, and commercial construction.

It will always be The Gen Group Construction's mission to challenge industry standards of quality construction and customer satisfaction, and meet the growing demand of their customer's needs. They guarantee to deliver their best quality for the price to their clients, because their clients are not just a number; they are friends, family, and members of the community they love. Now that Charlie and wife, Hailey, have a baby boy at home, he plans to grow The Gen Group Construction into a family legacy, continuing the reputation of quality and service.

103 Rue de la Rochelle
Broussard, LA 70518
Mon Jardin, Phase II

This 2,878 square foot split floor plan has 4 bedrooms, 3 ½ baths and sits contextually with all of the other architecturally detailed homes in Mon Jardin Subdivision. Maintaining a high standard was at the top of the list in designing this Caribbean Traditional abode. At the onset of great design, it all begins with the captivating exterior: stout stucco front columns, ornately painted brick details, textured hardy plank, and anchored with luscious landscaping all nestled together on a large lot. Once you journey through the front door, you are welcomed with exquisite natural light, highlighting all of the meticulously chosen finishes: wooden floors throughout the home (with the exception of the foyer and wet areas), that are enhanced with porcelain and marble tile, laser cut backsplashes and majestic wood cabinetry and beams. The master bedroom is independently located on the north side with a wood beam ceiling leading to the luxurious master bathroom. It is appointed with his and her vanities, a free-standing bathtub with a glass backdrop and a magnificent shower with elaborately detailed tile work. The second bedroom has its own bathroom, while the third and fourth bedroom is equally as beautiful. The patio is completed with a full outdoor kitchen, fireplace, half bath, beamed ceiling and is ready for a gathering of family and friends. This home is complemented with a three-car garage with the third bay having an overhead door at the back for easy access to the back yard. Come and see this home with much anticipation. We are looking forward to meeting you!

Build Local. Build Better. Build with a Member.

The Acadian Home Builders Association has a long history and outstanding reputation in the community. Our annual events – The Acadiana Home & Design Show, Parade of Homes and Home for the Holidays – are attended by thousands each year and allow us to continue our mission of promoting professionalism and ethical business practices in the home building industry while providing quality housing that creates value for the homeowner and the community.

The current membership of AHBA includes 743 companies, 263 of which are residential builders. The rest are businesses which support the housing industry, everything from carpenters to cabinet makers, roofers, flooring suppliers, mortgage lenders, real estate sales professionals, etc.

When building or remodeling a home, it is important to remember to use a local contractor. Big box, out of state builders may offer lower home prices, but it is because they use national suppliers and often bring labor from other states. Their efficiency and price might make them appealing, but it can come with serious disadvantages.

Here to Stay

When you are looking to build or buy a new home, it is important to ensure the services you require are performed by an expert who is familiar with the special building needs of Louisiana—hurricanes, high humidity, etc.—and here to stay long after the project is finished. Builder members of AHBA have businesses based in Acadiana, ensuring they can be easily reached years down the road if you have a question about your home. Once the housing market begins to pick up in other areas of the country, some of the national builders may lose interest in Acadiana and close up shop.

Licensed, Educated, Insured

AHBA builders are licensed by the Louisiana State Licensing Board for Contractors, and as such, they have passed a test certifying that they are knowledgeable about all the elements of building a home. Each year, builders must earn six hours of continuing education credits to maintain their understanding of the industry as well as their license. They do so by attending classes on building issues and techniques which are offered to them by AHBA and other Louisiana home builder associations.

Builder members of AHBA are also required to carry workman's compensation insurance as well as general liability, which protect you if any unfortunate incident should happen on your project.

Quality Is Built In

Building with local companies who construct only a few houses per year ensures higher quality, attention to detail, and more personal service. Smaller volume builders have time to personally visit each job site on a regular basis and ensure installations are done correctly and to the home buyer's specifications. They are also readily available to their clients, answering questions in a prompt fashion and developing close, lasting relationships.

Growing Our Economy

Local builders use local suppliers for their materials and hire subcontractors who are also based in Acadiana. This means dollars spent in our community stay in our community, and jobs are created for our neighbors.

Choosing the right builder is a very important and personal decision. When you are ready to construct your dream home, consider the benefits of choosing a local builder who is a member of the Acadian Home Builders Association. For more information and a list of builder members, visit www.acadianhba.com.
